Nancy Scoggin has taught instrumental music and AP Music Theory in Joshua, Texas for 32 years. Ms. Scoggin was born in Utica, New York, raised in Bradenton, Florida, and graduated with her music degree from the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg. After teaching in Natchez, Mississippi for 6 years she moved to Texas to pursue her masters degree at the University of North Texas and began teaching in the small town of Joshua, located just south of the Fort Worth/Dallas metropolitan area. She began teaching AP Music Theory in 1997 and soon became a consultant for the College Board. She is now a frequent instructor at AP summer institutes throughout the Southwest Region. She also enjoys being an AP Reader and finds the experience "an opportunity to meet with other AP music theory teachers from high schools and colleges around the country and share stories, insights and strategies. Teaching AP Music Theory has become one of my passions!" She also enjoys volunteering at Bass Performance Hall in Fort Worth, attending local opera and symphony performances, gardening, and playing with her four-legged family.

Definitely worth the buy, it took about 2 weeks to get delivered. Overall it helps with the AP class, and good for review! It has great examples for sight singing and for harmonizing melodies

I just took my AP Music Theory exam Monday and can honestly say this book did wonders. The book goes from the basics all the way to complex topics like part-writing, aural and sight-singing skills. Hopefully I get a 5!!!

Informative

it is what it is Exactly what we were looking for to help my son study for the AP Music Theory test. Great shipment and packaging.

Great item, exactly as described, very fast shipping, highly recommended, would repeat order again.

I like the approach of this book. I used it as a resource for my students this year. It seems to be the most comprehensive book I have found so far.

Just as expected as we do use this in class now. Thank you,
