Grade 5 Up-- Born a slave, Allen purchased his freedom in 1780 at the age of 20. Converted to Christianity by a Methodist circuit rider while still a slave, he moved to Philadelphia and preached at different churches. Against the wishes of church leaders, Allen established Bethel Church, the first Black Methodist Church, which became the mother church of the African Methodist Episcopal (AME) denomination. This book is interesting reading as well as a useful source for black history assignments. The writing is clear and straightforward, and the point of view is sympathetic. It provides not only a biography of the man but a portrait of life for free blacks in the post-Revolutionary era. The use of historical prints of important people and places and copies of important documents add much to the book and provide expansion of the text. --Jane Gardner Connor, formerly at South Carolina State Library, ColumbiaCopyright 1991 Reed Business Information, Inc.

Having been raised at Tanner Chapel African Methodist Episcopal (AME) Church in Phoenix, Arizona, I grew up knowing about the great Rev. Richard Allen, the founder of the AME Church. However, I did not know many of the struggles and accomplishments of Rev. Allen's life. If you are an AME minister, or lay person, you will want to get your hands on a copy of this book. Unfortunately, it is out of print, and many libraries are deleting it from their volumes. If you can't find it at your local library, the Inter-Library Loan librarian can probably borrow it for you from another library in a few days or weeks. It will be worth the wait! ENJOY! Every AME Church should have a copy of this book! For AME history buffs: See Also Rosa Parks: A Life by Douglas Brinkley
