"Law Office on a Laptop: How to Set Up Your Own Successful Mobile Law Practice is a truly comprehensive yet accessible guide to going solo. The new second edition adds valuable resources and considerations on social media and online presence that was absent from the first edition - which is more important and relevant now than it ever has been. Hodder and Sturmthal adequately prepare any lawyer or recent law school grad to gather the tools and build their own practice. This is a must read for anyone thinking of going solo or anyone who has recently taken the leap to go solo. Five stars."

Helpful guide for those thinking about opening their own mobile practice. It presents steps to take and suggests solutions for problems one would expect to face starting out. The digital version includes helpful links. Beyond logistics - marketing and networking are also discussed.

I just finished this book and I absolutely loved it! The authors have thought of everything necessary to get started, start getting clients and generating work. I especially loved the action plan at the end of every chapter. I wish I had read this book sooner. I must have read over a dozen of books on starting a law firm and they were either outdated or not very relevant. This book has definitely hit every aspect of starting a firm. The templates are highly valuable to everyone and I love how they have researched the most relevant resources and shared that in the book as well. I can't think of anything that wasn't included.
